TH' TIME HAS COME TO TACKLE REAL PROBLEMS

MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mail-in list is run on Friday for following week.

Elsewhere on this page we have a story about the trade war we are in with the European Common Market. While the pundits, politicians and other sideline coaches still refer to the Trade War as a coming event, you can take our word for it is not only in bud, it is in full bloom. Once upon a time the U.S. had the upper hand in exports of farm production, but when the politicians enlarged our best customer, the Soviets, our friends all over the world took advantage and also took over our markets.

The flock that the whole wide world seems to be awash in surplus agricultural commodities set the table for this situation and if you think for a dung minute that Europe, South America, Australia, New Zealand and Africa give a Continental Damn how tough it gets in the U.S. of A. you just

Texas Agriculture Should Improve

College Station — Texas farmers and ranchers should see somewhat better times in the year ahead.

"Agriculture income next year may rise moderately over 1986 levels," says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Higher cattle prices and better cotton markets are the main reasons for the improved prospects."

Although grain prices will remain

1987 Farmers Home Emergency Loan Tied To Crop Insurance

Temple, Texas — Farmers seeking disaster emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) for 1987 losses will need to have crop insurance or the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) said today.

"All family-size farmers should be aware that a newly-effective provision of the 1985 farm bill prohibits our making emergency loans for crop losses that could have been insured under multiple-peril crop insurance programs sponsored by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC)," said Futch.

"Therefore I urge every family-size farmer in the State of Texas to seriously take into account this new relationship between insurance coverage and

Semi-Secret Meeting in Geneva Reported, World Agricultural Exporting Nations Concerned About Escalating Disputes

Geneva, Jan. 19 (UPI) — Senior U.S. and EEC officials held talks on ways to avoid a trade war over the Spanish feed grain dispute here Sunday, a U.S. spokesman confirmed.

EEC diplomats declined to confirm officially that the talks took place. A source close to the EEC said the talks were "civilized," but could not comment on whether progress had been made.

Alan Woods, Deputy U.S. Trade Representative, and Daniel Amstutz, Deputy U.S. Agriculture Secretary, attended the 1-day meeting on behalf of the U.S., while Leslie Foulding, EEC director general for external affairs, and Guy Legras, director general for agriculture, represented the EEC, trade sources said.

Sunday's meeting was intended to pave the way for a meeting in Washington Friday and Saturday between U.S. trade representative Clayton Venturi and European commissioner for external affairs Willy De Clercq.

Washington has threatened to introduce 200% tariffs on U.K. gin, French brandy, Dutch cheese and Danish pork products if the EEC has not offered adequate compensation by Jan. 31 for lost Spanish feed grain sales valued at $400 million since Spain joined the EEC last year. The EEC has threatened to counter such a move with 30-50 European currency-unit-per-tonne extra levies on U.S. corn gluten feed by mid-February.

Portugal Friday held up EEC approval of a decision to impose a surtax on U.S. imports of corn gluten feed and rice. If the U.S. curbs imports of a range of EEC foodstuffs, sources reported.

They said the EEC finance ministers tentatively agreed to impose a surcharge of between 42 and 55 European currency units — $45 to $90 — for each tonne of U.S. corn gluten feed and rice imported into the EEC.

But Portugal held up the accord, because it wanted guarantees its animal feed producers, who use the corn gluten feed for their products, would not suffer from the EEC action, the sources said.

The ministers had prepared a statement saying the surtax would begin when the U.S. raised tariffs on a range of EEC food imports by as much as 200%, they added.

On Dec. 30, the U.S. said the higher tariffs would begin at the end of January and effect imports of EEC gin, brandy, white wine, cheeses, canned ham, endives, carrots and olives.

The Morges Group, an informal gathering of experts from 10 leading agricultural exporters including the U.S., EEC, Australia and Argentina, started meeting here earlier today.

Dutch and U.S. officials confirmed. Amstutz and Legras will lead the U.S. and EEC teams, they said.

The meeting aims to break the deadlock over whether negotiations to liberalize farm trade during the new round of global trade talks should be subject to "fast track" treatment as the U.S. and Cairns group of 14 farm exporters wish. The EEC, at France's insistence, wants to avoid the implementation of future agreements to phase out farm trade and production subsidies until discussions on all new round topics are complete. The Uruguay round is slated to last 4 years, but is expected to last longer.

Ant de Zeeuw, the Dutch diplomat who chaired the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade farm trade group that prepared the inclusion for the first time of farm trade on the agenda of the now GATT round launched in Uruguay last September, is attending the Morges Group meeting, Dutch officials confirmed.

De Zeeuw is the only candidate for the chair of the Uruguay round farm trade working group and is expected to play a vital role in the group's work.

GATT's 83 members have so far failed to decide on the working groups to negotiate subjects like trade in services, farm trade, tropical products, and substantive talks are not expected to begin until next month at the earliest.

GATT director general Arthur Dunkel is starting informal discussions with key members today to explore ways to solve the new round stalemate, but the looming trade war is expected to hinder progress.

Q. I hear this "holism" in ranch management. What the heck does it mean?

A. Holism is a shorthand way of saying that there is seldom one factor that affects a production decision. For instance, to improve reproduction in the cow herd requires improved nutrition through better grazing management.

aint been paying attention. We have said it before and we say it again, when you get politicians mixed up in your business you are in Big Trouble, period. You have to give 'em the rest of the credit for pickin' up the rest of the civilized world after the wars and dusting them off and pouring billions of dollars into gittin' 'em going again. If you think for a minute that England, Japan, Germany, France or any of the rest of 'em feel any appreciation for this, you ain't been payin' no attention.

Just this week the Japanese trade surplus with the United States was announced as $61.48 billion. That is billions folks, yet they refuse to open their markets to our stuff. It has been suggested that unless other countries, including Japan, do not open their markets we should take action. Action like putting our trade on a dollar for dollar basis. This would be a fight for survival, as many U.S. companies are these days, letting the chips fall where they may, may be the only sensible answer.

We have been in business for a long time and expect to be for an even longer time. Our philosophy has always been to welcome changes in the business climate and to meet competition head on.

Futures Talk

Week Ending Jan. 16

Customers orders are executed on the "floor" of the Exchange. On the floor are "pits" or "rings" where Floor Brokers execute orders. A "pit" is generally a worded construction with eight sides. When you walk into the pit, you walk up three or four steps to the top, and then walk down three or four steps into the center of the trading ring or pit. Generally each futures contract has its own pit.

Floor Brokers stand on the steps when they make trades. The particular step that a broker is standing on represents the futures month that the broker is trading. Brokers who execute spread orders generally stand in the center of the ring so that they will have easier access to several "trading months" because a spread trade involves execution in two different months at once.

Each Floor Broker wears a badge with generally a three or four letter designation. This designation is given to the trader when the "seat" is purchased by the trader. A "seat" is another name for "membership" in the Exchange. When an order is filled, each broker involved in the trade writes down the execution price, time, better designation of the other broker, and brokerage house that the Floor Broker is serving on the trade.

The prices are shouted out by each broker wanting to make a trade. When two brokers agree on a price, a trade has been made. These "out-crys" by the brokers are recorded as they occur by Market Reporters who are employees of the Exchange. This price data is automatically transmitted to the world.

I would like to make a very important point here! When you go to make a trade, you are generally not going to get filled at the best price shown on your brokers quote machine screen. The trade at that price was probably made 30 to 40 seconds ago.

If you are in phase with the flow of the price, the markets will pay you a handsome dividend.

In accordance with last week's article, the close above $62.75 has changed the trend of March feeder cattle from down to up, but the flow remains neutral. The "flow" is a short term directional indicator. When a downtrending market tries to bottom out, the flow will turn neutral first, and then at a later time, the "trend" may be broken. Price can only do three things: move up, move down or stay in a neutral position. Once in a neutral position, it will take more technical factors to move the flow into either up or down mode. As of January 16, these feeders have rallied for 12 days and are due for a reaction. There is major support around $60.00.

In accordance with last week's article, the close above $67.70 has changed the trend of June live cattle from down to up, and the flow has changed from down to neutral. Those cattle have rallied for 17 days and are due for a reaction. There is major support around $65.50.

The flow of February hogs remains down with the trend up. The resistance is around $52.25. There is major support around $44.00.

The trend of July corn remains down but the flow has changed from down to up. A close below $1.84 1/2 will turn the flow back down. In accordance with last week's article, the support between $1.62-1.65 continues to hold. There is resistance around $1.84.

The trend of May wheat remains neutral. The flow has changed from down to neutral. The resistance around $2.65 was knocked out on January 16 with the close at $2.65 1/2. The new resistance is at $2.69 1/2. The major support is around $2.47.

The trend of March soybeans remains sideways. The boundaries of a sideways pattern are $5.11 and $4.91. A close below $4.83 will change the flow and the trend to down. A bottom occurred on December 18 at $4.88. It is uncertain when the bottom of this does move in the sideways pattern.

The flow and trend of June Treasury Bills remains down. The resistance is around $95.10. Treasury Bill futures traded with numbers that are reciprocal of interest rates. As Treasury futures move lower, interest rates are becoming higher.

Commodity Insight

Week Ending January 15

In the December 18th issue of my newsletter Commodity Insight, I suggested that all shorts in the grain and metal complex be covered immediately. The CIB index had fallen to my downside objective and being short down in the hole seemed unwise. I was convinced that a major trading turn was about to occur.

I was presenting a new scenario for the markets. A scenario much different from what I had been advocating the previous twelve months. This new scenario was founded on the belief that the U.S. dollar would resume its downward trend. If the dollar did indeed fall, while crude oil prices were on the rise, the grains and the metals would be the first to benefit.

I was also convinced that a falling U.S. dollar and rising crude oil would spell disaster for the bond market. The best gauge of inflation over the past eight years is not gold prices but bond prices. If the dollar fell while crude oil rose, the bonds were a relatively safe bet. Or so I thought. Bonds have yet to break.

Since that issue, the futures markets have been in the midst of some very exciting action. Market traders and watchers are viewing a scenario unlike anything seen in a long time. The new scenario is a direct result of a collapsing U.S. dollar coupled with a sharp rise in crude oil prices.

Grain Complex — The fundamentals are not nearly as bullish as many would have you believe. A weak dollar is helping support these markets. I am still forecasting Chicago March wheat to touch $3.10 before it expires. I have been urging my subscribers to purchase both March and July wheat. I have also suggested that traders buy the $3 March wheat calls. In recent days they could have been purchased for as little as $25 each.

A valid argument can be made that the barley market is even more bullish than the corn market. I believe that the barley market is about in stage an impressive rally. If barley prices can improve significantly in the days ahead, so can the rest of the grains. It is not the short the grain complex at this time.

Livestock Complex — During the December/January period the main feature was cattle prices gaining ground compared to hog prices. In early December for example, February cattle were $4.80 over the price of February hogs. By mid-January that spread had widened to $11.08. Increased slaughter levels for hogs as well as much heavier hog weights caused prices to fall to a seven-month low. Cattle prices on the other hand have rallied due to increased demand for beef.

R&W Cattle Co. To Host Field Day For Cattlemen

High Point Ranch will be the site for a field day hosted by R&W Cattle Company. The event is scheduled for Saturday, February 7th at 1:00 p.m. and geared to the commercial cattlemen.

Mark Cowan, International Brangus Breeders Association director of field services, will moderate a panel discussion held by representatives of different areas of the beef industry. Featured on the panel will be Bill Ragland, National Cattlemen's Association Marketing Committee, Bellville, Texas; John Bollinger, Texas Western Beef, Houston, Texas; and Gary Bruna, Willoma Brangus, Floresville, Texas. Speakers for the event will be Jimmy Powell, vice president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and leader of the tax committee as well as Dr. W. H. Candwell, Elgin Brooding Services, Elgin, Texas who will speak on herd bull fertility. Mark Raichok, owner of R&W Cattle Company will give a tour of the High Point Ranch facilities.

All purebred breeders and commercial cattlemen are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served. High Point Ranch is located 8 1/2 miles north of Bellville, Texas, on FM 1456, then 1/2 mile east on FM 1371 on the north side.

Watch the feeder cattle market. Prices have just called to their highest levels in 17 weeks. January feeders, for example, closed over $64 and the market looks explosive. However, I believe that the January feeder cattle contract will fall to the $68 to $60 level before it expires at the end of the month. It's possible that a train wreck for the leaders is close at hand.

Stock Market — The Dow may be impressive but the rest of the market is quite questionable. If the dollar continues on its steep decline while crude oil prices rise, the bond market should indeed happen, the stock market is not far behind.

I would like to be a seller of any stock index futures contract when the Dow Jones closes over 2065. These traders should be done on a close only basis. This trade is obviously not for the weak hearted.

The Dow will eventually have a normal and healthy break. That's a fact. The question is — how hard will the break be and from what level? A normal break for the Dow would be 10-15%. That would mean a break of at least 200 points.

In December the Dow fell 65 points and certain stock index futures fell nearly $800 per contract. Therefore, it's quite possible that a normal break in the Dow will give birth to the biggest sell-off in history for the stock futures. Futures prices could fall as much as $30,000 per contract.

Crop totaled 3.70 billion pounds, 10% below 1985. Average for harvest is up 5% from 1984 but dry weather in the southeast resulted in U.S. yield averaging 401 pounds per acre lower.

Sunflower: Production totaled 2.68 billion pounds, 15% below 1985 and 20% below 1984. Harvested area, at 1.96 million acres, dropped 11% from a year ago. Average yield increased 260 pounds from last year and is estimated at 1,360 pounds per acre.

If you think you are confused, you should attend the Petroleum Accountants Society of Houston's annual banquet and woka sa I did recently. When they asked me to do a humorous talk, I said, "You've got to be kidding. I'm a performer not a microphone wringer."

I thought they would be a tough crowd but they were delightful. I think their upbeat mood stemmed from two things — a positive attitude and the traditional 45-minute cocktail party which ran from 6:30 to 7:30.

As soon as I entered the lobby of the hotel, I heard laughing. One of the overworked, frustrated accountants from a merged oil company called Texxon Shell told me why T. Boone Pickens couldn't be there. "He had a very good reason," said the CPA. "He wasn't invited."

"Actually, he did receive an invitation," said another. "It was wrapped around a rock and thrown through his window."

I saw a sign on an oil company office building which read "Like Privacy? Move In." I asked one of the guys about it and he said, "If you like privacy, move in because you'll be alone."

"But," replied an optimistic CPA about the new tax law, "we expect things to improve because we're really on the entire top five floors in a new client. Now who would think one client could afford five floors in our current economy?"

"T. Boone Pickens?" I asked.

"None."

"J. Ross Perot?"

"None."

"Who, then?"

"The Texas Unemployment Commission."

"There were no Aralos at this meeting which sort of surprised me. I was told that they couldn't come because they had lost the sheets off their back."

"Did you hear the news from OPEC today?" asked one accountant.

"You mean the prediction of oil at $25 per barrel by the end of the year?"

"Yes, I don't care about the oil or the prediction. I just want to find out what medication they are on and get some of it."

Fortunately, these folks had learned how to poke fun about what we all know is a temporary situation. A fellow encouraged me to get the word out. "We don't want sympathy," he said, "just tell all your friends to drive one car apiece, create more demand. We're tired of Ethiopians telling jokes about Houston."

A parting line before the banquet was given by a fellow who said he had the worst luck. They struck oil in his vegetable garden. "Before that," he said, "at least I had something to eat."

Government Programs Buoy Eleventh District Agriculture

Farmers in Texas are likely to suffer disproportionately if government funding for agricultural programs is reduced, according to Associate Economist Roger H. Dunstan in the November issue of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas' Agricultural Highlights. Given current attempts to cut the federal budget deficit, it is possible that federal agricultural spending may be significantly reduced. If payments are cut dramatically, important crop producing regions in Texas — such as the Southern High Plains — will be hard hit, Dunstan projects.

Most of the decline in U.S. agricultural land values already has occurred, says Economist Hillary H. Smith in the November issue of the Federal

Weekly Livestock Reporter
P.O. Box 7655
Fort Worth, Texas 76111

If you want to try to help your industry survive, my I suggest that you give some coverage to an idea which I have proposed which needs a great deal of exposure, and that is amending the tax law to provide for a write-off in the year of purchase of any animal under two years of age rather than having to set the same up on a depreciation schedule and depreciate it out over the life of the animal. This bill would equate the tax treatment of live animals to embryo transplant. It would also give that person who is purchasing animals or getting into the business for the first time a better chance of survival, because they could see what they were getting rather than being sold a promise of something to come in most cases never materialized. If our industry is to survive, we must use the strength that we have and let our Congressmen know our

Two excellent daughters of Signal mated A.I. to Achilles Superstar, consigned by Shewn Lee feelings about various matters. Our biggest fault in the past has been that we have not been organized and had no direction because we could not agree on anything that the industry as a whole should propose to Congress by way of help. This is not a request for a handout, as the dairy industry has done, but is a request for favorable tax treatment which would in my opinion perhaps double the value of live unused animals immediately in the year of enactment. To gain access to Congress, it cannot be a one-man campaign but must be pursued by every interested cattleman from all directions. The stimulus which this bill will provide to the purebred cattle economy will be greater than any other that I have seen or heard of being proposed. We cannot sit around on our hands and talk about our problems. We must act. Will you please help in this campaign and give coverage to this idea which I think is deserving? Thanking you for just courtesies and best wishes, I am

Performance Proven on the Historic Pitchfork Ranch

Simbrah

For the last three years Simbrah bulls have been making their mark on some of the top black baldy cows on this historic 160,000 acre ranch. Located on the broken, rolling plains country of Northwest Texas, the Pitchfork is known for producing some of the best beef cattle in the nation. Simbrah bulls are now siring some of the best that the ranch has to offer.

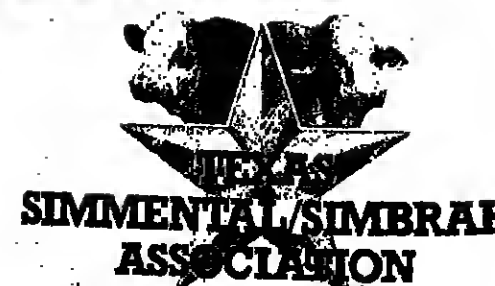

"After weaning, we background the calves on wheat pasture and then ship them to our Finthills ranch in Kansas. The Simbrah cross calves that we shipped this spring were standouts."

"On the strength of the last two years' Simbrah calf crops, I believe Simbrah bulls definitely have a strong future here on the Pitchfork."

New Bulls Join ABS Angus Battery

Two Angus bulls with impressive progeny records and a national show champion have recently joined the group of bulls at American Breeders Service, reports Keith Vander Velde, Manager of Beef Programs for the firm.

Gardner Henshaw Angus Ranch's Rito 2100 G D A R ranks very high in the 1986 Angus Sire Evaluation report with an Expected Progeny Difference (EPD) of +26.7 pounds for weaning weight and +39.2 pounds for yearling weight.

His EPD for birth weight is +6.3 pounds. Rito 2100 is a great grandson of the former ABS bull 707 of Ideal 53770.

R & J Bulls 752, bred by R & J

Lanch of Briggs, Texas, is another four-year old with a good deal of progeny information. His EPD of +5.6 pounds for birth weight, +29.3 pounds for weaning weight, and +73.2 pounds for yearling weight, demonstrates his ability to pass inheritance for rapid growth on to his offspring.

The third new arrival, Harts Wild Turkey 5020, is a yearling with an already impressive show record. This grandson of Mr Angus was bred by Bradley Hart of Fredrick, S.D.; and is owned by a group headed by Weaver Angus Ranch of Pearla, Ill. He was made Junior Bull Calf Champion at the 1985 National Angus Show, Winter Bull Champion, at the 1986 National Western and Reserve Grand Champion at the Western Futurity in 1986.

Semen and A.I. certificates will be available from ABS Representatives or by contacting American Breeders Service, Box 459, DeForest, WI 53546-3721.

NCA Convention Program To Answer Cattlemen's Questions

Denver - Cattlemen attending the 1987 convention of the National Cattlemen's Assn. will get answers to their questions on the cattle business and on industry and government affairs. Don Butler, NCA president, said today.

Some 5,000 persons are expected to attend the convention and trade show, to be held Jan. 26-28 in Reno, Nev.

The overall industry situation and outlook will be examined at a Jan. 28 session sponsored by CattleFax, a market information service associated with NCA. Speakers will include CattleFax staff members: Ken Mon-fort, president of Monfort of Colorado, Inc., and Art Douglas, Creighton University, one of the nation's leading long-range weather forecasters.

An education program on Jan. 27 will answer cattlemen's questions on the new $1 beef check-off. Panel members will be Jo Ann Smith, chairman of the Beef Promotion and Research Board; Roy Hehlholtz, Beef Promotion Operating Committee member and chairman of the Beef Industry Council's promotion committee; and Gary Enright, Beef Board coordinator.

"The Impact of the New Tax Law on You" will be the subject of a panel discussion headed by Jimmy Powell, chairman of the NCA tax committee. Panel members will include Sam Guyton, Denver tax attorney, and a cow-calf operator and a feeder.

Leading national political figures will be featured on "Live from Washington - Meet the Decision Makers." Answering cattlemen's questions, via satellite and a large screen in Reno, will be Ambassador Clayton Yettler, U.S. trade representative; Congressman Dick Cheney (R-Wyo.); and other lawmakers, to be announced.

At a session on "The Battle Against Misconceptions," cattle men and women will get information and advice they can use to help clear up misconceptions such as fat and cholesterol content of beef cuts about beef. Susan Peterson, Washington-based communications and media consultant, will demonstrate ways to communicate the true facts about beef's healthfulness.

An educational session on "Gutting Control of the Commodity" will help cattlemen identify their best profit opportunities in the changing cattle and beef business. Fred Knapp, Drovers' Journal, will moderate a panel which will include Russell Cross, Texas A&M University meat scientist; Roy Wallace, Select Sires, Inc., and a packer to be named.

A series of seminars on enterprise analysis and use of computers is scheduled for Jan. 27-28. This "Butter Business Management" series, which involves a special fee, will be directed by James Cathura, University of California economist and business management expert. Others working with cattlemen in these sessions will be Mike Bradley, Anne Fjord and Glenn Nader, University of California; and C. Wilson Gray and Neil Rimbley, University of Idaho.

Speakers at the convention's opening session on Jan. 28 will include NCA president Butler and Richard Wirthlin, opinion pollster for President Reagan.

For convention registration and other information, contact the NCA convention department, P.O. Box 3468, Englewood, Colo. 80155 (303-684-0306).

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
The December 6th issue of the Stargazer, 5th Tri-State Livestock News, carried a front page story which was captioned "NCA President Don Butler Tells S. D. Livestock Assn. the Mercs have gotten the message." The story states that Jack Sanders, Chairman of the Board of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME), told the S. D. Livestock Assn. that the Mercs have gotten the message and want some changes.

On page 2 of the Stargazer (Nov. 1986 issue) the caption reads "CME host 39 feeders for discussions on futures." It seems that the National Cattlemen's Association (NCA) President, Don Butler, told the S. D. Livestock Assn. that the Mercs have gotten the message and want some changes.

Mr. Hale is credited in this article as saying that a problem will exist if the NCA is expanding time and money trying to delete futures. When our real economy is in a slump, it will be a sad commentary if we have the charge over the bill to eliminate live-cattle futures when our economy is sitting on top of the other hill.

Now the Merc may have gotten the message, but apparently Don Butler (NCA President) and Bob Hale haven't. When 60% of your constituency tells you, in no uncertain terms, that they want futures terminated it seems that the Merc's leadership should be aiming for. Through their comments both Hale and Butler seem to be trying to condition the membership of NCA to accept compromise.

This past spring, when the cattlemen of this country rose up in indignation against the cattle futures market, the NCA took over behind Congressional investigation, which generally buys sufficient time to let an issue die of old age. This time around however, enough people from the various subsides of production have been educated about the deleterious effect futures have on the real market, that they will not be easily placated.

Since NCA asked Congress for an investigation, before they pulled their membership to see if they had a consensus for such a course of action, it would be prudent to first see the results of the Government Accounting Office's (GAO) investigation before you make any "deal" with the CME. NCA's true responsibility should be to urge Congress to give the GAO all the funding necessary to accomplish an independent, comprehensive investigation. I hear they GAO are willing to do just that, but are pinched for both dollars and people with the right background in the job.

This past summer, legislation was introduced in the House which would have allowed producers to vote in a referendum to determine if cattle futures should be allowed to trade. This fall, in the Senate, an amendment was introduced to delete cattle futures. NCA took no position on either measure, rather leadership stated that having asked Congress for an investigation, their credibility with Congress would be lost if support was offered; either approach before the results of the GAO investigation were in. If NCA leadership continues to "munge" the future issue as they have since last April, they may wind up with some Congressional credibility and very little membership.

As for the demand problem Mr. Hale sees on the hill, we have been assured that NCA's $60,000,000 checkoff program will address that. The future problem on the other hill, which seems to be on appropriation to both Don Butler and Bob Hale, is very real to the 66% minority of NCA's membership as well as thousands of other US cattlemen who are not NCA members. The NCA leadership have that now, given a chance to respond to the real grass-roots, attraction given it by the membership, that they will not answer in a more positive manner?

It seems to me that at $600 in a few weeks NCA could hardly do itself proud by using the following:
1. Ask Congress to immediately suspend trading in both live and feeder cattle futures for this calendar year, while the GAO study runs.
2. Re-emphasize the urgency of comprehensive study by the GAO coupled with cooperative effort by NCA and

Veterinarian Fined $40,000 For Attempted Fraud

Washington, Dec. 17 — An Alabama veterinarian has been fined $40,000 and placed on two years probation for violating federal animal health rules in an attempt to defraud the federal government, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official reports.

Dr. Austin C. Newman of Dothan, Ala., was sentenced Nov. 12 by a judge of the U.S. Middle District of Alabama. In a trial by jury, Newman was found guilty on four counts of attempting to defraud the U.S. Department of Agriculture and on two counts of mail fraud, according to Bert W. Hawkins, administrator of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

The fraud charge centered around Newman's attempt to secure federal indemnity payments for a herd of his cattle that became infected with brucellosis, a contagious cattle disease. As part of a cooperative state-federal brucellosis eradication program, USDA requires that cattle infected with the disease be sent to slaughter. Owners are paid an indemnity to help compensate for their losses.

Newman filed four indemnity claims with USDA for his diseased cattle between 1980 and 1981. Newman sought the indemnity rate for purchased animals — $727 — for each of the 30 cattle sent to slaughter. In fact, the infected animals were grade cows — not purchased — and Newman should have filed for and been compensated at the indemnity rate of $62 for each animal.

To support his claim for the purchased indemnity rate, Newman had obtained duplicate registration certificates for purchased cattle he had previously owned and had already sold. He submitted these registration certificates with his request for indemnity payments for the infected grade cows. Since Newman requested that the duplicate registration certificates be used in the attempted fraud he mailed to him, he also opened himself to the charges of mail fraud.

Newman had previously pled guilty in a 1979 charge of interstate transport of diseased animals.

In addition to receiving the fine and a two-year suspended prison term, Newman lost his federal veterinary accreditation, which is required for veterinarians to practice in participation with state and federal animal health programs. The rules of accreditation require veterinarians to adhere to strict standards of performance.

Australian Bushfires Destroy Grazing Land, Livestock

Sydney, Jan. 19 (RFP) — Weekend bushfires that destroyed grazing land and livestock in Australia's southeastern state of New South Wales are now under control, but firefighters are alert for further outbreaks, the Bush Fire Council said today. Most of the damage occurred around the small town of Jerilderie, where 96,000 hectares and 11,000 cattle and sheep were destroyed, council officials said. Near the township of Centimurra, the fires burnt 23,000 hectares and destroyed 25,000 sheep, they said. The NSW bushfires have also claimed four lives. Fire rans rampant in numerous in NSW, including the metropolitan Sydney area, they said.

Payment Problems Among Lamb Slaughter Plants

Washington, (RFP) — One major problem with lamb slaughter plants in recent years has involved packers failing to give sellers enough information about factors affecting their final payment, USDA said. A USDA study of the 14 major U.S. lamb slaughter plants shows sellers "are not being given full and true written accounting in all instances." Also, settlements and final payments are not being made on actual live carcass weights but on lamb purchases on a carcass basis, and meat packers do not maintain the individual carcass identity of each seller's lambs, USDA said. The USDA began the study in 1984 after producers groups expressed concern about packers' lamb procurement practices and competition.

under pressure from too many suppliers, government payments will support income, notes Anderson. Production expenses will be held in check by low rates of inflation. Even though demand for grain will benefit from higher livestock prices, total feed usage is expected to decline, says the economist. As a result, combined domestic and export demand for feed grains and soybeans will be below production levels. However, stocks of wheat, rice and cotton are expected to decrease as use exceeds production.

Deer market prices will remain depressed, participation in farm price gains will be high in 1987, Anderson points out. "This will hold back production."

1987 Farmers Home Emergency Loan Tied To Crop Insurance

emergency loan eligibility. Federally-subsidized multiple-peril crop insurance is now available for all wheat, corn, barley, grain sorghum, oats, upland cotton and rice, plus an additional 35 specialty crops in most growing areas. The government subsidy reduces the program costs by about 50 percent. Futhel said, making crop insurance a worthwhile option to consider regardless of the newly required tie-in with emergency loan eligibility.

If a farmer obtains the insurance required, and if the value of his crop loss reaches 30 percent or more after the insurance payment, the operation will be eligible for consideration for an emergency loan.

Effective in January, the new requirement will affect crops planted in 1987, and thus will not affect winter wheat or other winter-seeded crops planted in 1986 and harvested in 1987. Insurance must be multiple-peril, covering most forms of disaster, rather than hail-only.

The closing date for insurance sales on spring-planted crops in the State of Texas will vary. Closing date for insurance sales in the coastal and South Texas Areas is February 15th; East Texas and Blackland Areas is March 31st; and the Rolling Plains and High Plains is April 15th. Because of these dates and the fact that a prevented-planting endorsement for eligible crops must be elected 45 days prior to sales closing, Platte urged farmers to contact their local insurance agents promptly.

Information is also available at FIC field offices and through most county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

The plan was invented by an Italian harpsichord maker called Bartolomeo Cristofori. It is a remedy for harpsichord's inability to "play piano" in Italian and loud "forte."

Feedlot Trade Slow, Steady

Few mixed good and choice Holsteins 8.00. Weight only: Heifers, mostly choice 2-4 650-800 lbs. 92.00-93.50.

Greeley, Jan. 20 — Colorado feedlot trading moderately active; both classes steady. Week in late: 6,000. Sales confirmed on 2,400 slaughter steers; 4,300 slaughter heifers. Steers — choice 2-3 1180-1250 lbs. 60.00-60.50. Carcasses basis — choice 2-3 1150-1200 lbs. 95.00-96.00 delivered in-stall. Heifers — choice 2-3 1025-1090 lbs. 58.75-59.50. Carcasses basis — choice 2-3 975-1100 lbs. 92.50-94.00. Several loads same grade 1000-1050 lbs. 4.50 over USDA Midwest wholesale beef quotations on the day of slaughter all delivered in-state.

Dodge City, Jan. 19 (USDA) — Western Kansas feedlot trade slow. Slaughter steers steady to 50 higher. Slaughter heifers firm. Inquiry moderate and demand light. Sales confirmed on 1,000 slaughter steers and 900 slaughter heifers. Steers: Mostly choice 2-3 1100-1125 lbs. 81.00; choice with and good 1075-1125 lbs. 80.50-80.75; mixed good and choice 1100 lbs. 80.00; mostly good with end low choice 1025-1050 lbs. 59.00. Some while usage improves. The number of Texas farmers forced out of agriculture in 1986 due to financial reasons beyond their control is expected to exceed 2,800, says the economist. The number is up moderately from the year before and about twice the number two years ago. Heavy debt loads, low prices and low yields are the main causes forcing farmers to quit.

The largest number of farmers forced out are in the intensified farming areas of the Panhandle, Southern High Plains and Rolling Plains. Anderson estimates that more than 100 farmers will leave farming in each of these West Texas counties where crop yields have been extremely low for several years.

Agricultural prosperity will be slow in coming during the rest of the 1980s. U.S. farm exports should expand gradually while heavy government income support will continue for crop farmers, says Anderson.

Futures Talk

Week Ended Jan. 23

In last week's article, I described the appearance and activity on the "floor" of the Exchange. This is a very exciting place. It seems to me to be capitalism in its purest form with "open-out-cry" buying and selling. It is a place where anyone with sufficient capital to cover margin can have an opportunity to succeed financially. The futures markets are the greatest money machine in the world.

There are basically two types of Floor Brokers. One type executes orders for customers, and the other type, known as Locals, execute orders for their personal accounts.

The brokers that execute orders for Commission House customers receive a commission of around two to three dollars a contract. They generally execute orders for several brokerage houses at once. Many of them work for themselves while others are employees of the brokerage houses. Occasionally a customer will say that they get better order executions at one brokerage house than at another brokerage. This occasionally may be so but the reality may be that both brokerage houses use the same Floor Brokers, and they are both getting executions at the same time. The difference perceived by the customer could well be due to speed of reporting by the brokerage houses.

Each brokerage house uses a different color of customer order ticket. As the Floor Broker makes trades, the Broker may throw the order out of the trading pit. "Runners" who are employees of brokerage houses, carry customer orders into and out of the trading pit. They are looking for their brokerage tickets by color on the floor. Some Floor Brokers accept incoming customer orders in their pockets on one side and put their "filled" orders in pockets on their other side. Runners have to get into the pit to these brokers to deliver and pick up customer orders. All of this activity is taking place in a very congested and crowded place. At the Treasury Dept. pit at the Chicago Board of Trade, they have installed turnstiles that Runners have to pass thru to help direct the flow of people. If you are in phase with the flow of the price, the markets will pay you a handsome dividend.

The trend of March feeder cattle remains up. After a rally of 11 straight days, the market made a retreat at $98.90. With the trade above $95.90, the flow of the market has changed from neutral to moderate. The "flow" is a short term directional indicator. When a downtrending market tries to bottom out, the flow will turn neutral first, and then at a later time, the "trend" may be broken. Price can only do three things: move up, move down, or stay in a neutral position. Once in a neutral position, it will take more technical factors to move the flow into either the up or down mode. The "trend" is a long-term directional indicator. There is resistance at $94.80, and at the contract high of $96.55. If the market closes above $95.55, the next resistance should be found around $98.35. The major support is around $90.00.

The trend of June live cattle (fat) remains up. After a rally of 16 straight days, the market made a retreat at $67.90. With the trade above $67.90, the flow of the market has changed from neutral to up. There is resistance around $69.05 and at the contract high of $80.00. The major support is around $66.50.

The flow of February hogs remains down with the trend up. A close above $49.00 will change the flow to neutral. The major support is around $44.00 with major resistance around $52.00.

The flow of June hogs is down with the trend up. A close above $47.00 will change the flow to neutral. The major support is around $48.00 with major resistance around $47.50.

The trend of July corn remains down, and the flow remains neutral. A close below $2.62 will turn the flow down. In accordance with last week's article, the resistance at $2.89 1/4 was knocked out on January 26 with the close at $2.71 1/4. The support is around $2.57.

The trend of March soybeans remains sideways. The boundaries of the sideways pattern are $5.11 and $4.82. A bottom occurred on December 18 at $4.86. In accordance with last week's article, $4.86 remains the bottom of this down move in the sideways pattern.

The flow and trend of June Treasury Bills remains down. The resistance is around 96.10. Treasury Bill futures are traded with numbers that are the reciprocal of interest rates. As T-Bill futures move lower, interest rates are becoming higher.

Commodity Insight

Week Ending January 22

WYSIWYG (pronounced wizzywig) is an abbreviation for What You See Is What You Get. The term is used by computer operators. It refers to the feature that what you see on screen is what will be reproduced by a computer printer.

I've concluded that these are WYSIWYG markets. Unrestrained speculation in stocks, bonds, currencies and commodities has become commonplace. Investors, traders and market watchers have been lulled into believing that the current atmosphere of intense price volatility is normal and harmless.

Believe me, what is now taking place on the various exchanges is not normal, nor is it harmless. Market psychology is swinging from panic to greed on a daily basis. What you are really seeing is violent swings in money. Money made or money lost. If you're not careful, what you will get, in these types of markets, is a very expensive education. WYSIWYG!

Grain Complex — I still don't think that the grain complex is as bearish as many grain analysts would have you believe. A lower U.S. dollar and rising crude oil prices will eventually help spur a modest grain rally. Probe the long side of the grains on price setbacks.

I am still forecasting Chicago March wheat to hit $3.10 before it expires. A recent USDA report was construed as bullish for new crop wheat. There is no reason whatsoever to be a seller in the wheat market at this time.

I'm convinced that the soybean market is about to stage a significant rally. July soybeans closed today under $4.90 per bushel. Commercial buying in the beans this week was heavy as I've witnessed in a long time. Avoid the short side of the beans as well as the wheat.

Livestock Complex — The cattle market appears to be following the Dow Jones. This is especially true of the feeder cattle market. Recently, the Dow and the feeders both closed higher after a day in a row. That was a record for the Dow — it may have been for the feeders as well.

Until the first quarter of 1987 is past, it will be very difficult for me to be a bull towards the cattle market. The cash markets are near the $61 level and I anticipate a move down to the $55 to $58 level over the next two weeks. The futures should follow the cash downward.

New Forecaster Through the Beef Industry Council, cattlemen will be spending up to $35 million on made-for-television beef advertisements. The stars of these ads are Janice Gorman and Cybill Shepherd. The ads are designed to tell consumers that beef is back and that beef is healthy.

ATTENTION: BULLS!!!
 Did you make any money today?
 That's a question we ask of our operation every day because we are serious about the cattle business and like any other enterprise, we expect to make a profit.

Our plan is simple:
 1. We supply quality range bulls.
 2. They work for you.
 3. You come back for more.
 If you have been questioning the profit potential of your operation lately, consider a 4E Brahman Bull.

These barrels and caps are made from thick heavy wall PVC and then lined with 1/8" of urethane. These barrels are as good as any brass barrel on the market. The urethane lining assures long life and true check strokes. Our 1 7/8" x 24" barrel sells for $39.95 plus $2.75 postage. It connects right to your 2" pipe (steel or PVC). These urethane lined barrels are doing a wonderful job right now. Send for information. Serving Farm and Ranch Since 1950.
